

AT&T concessions in battle over COMSAT

Heading a one-man charge, cowboy artist Jack Swanson has successfully battled the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. and the U.S. Government to make the planned COMSAT station in Cachagua confirm to conservation standards.

AT&T, which is a major owner of COMSAT, will build the installation for the joint government-privately owned satellite communication system.

Based on the recommendations Swanson and his attorney had hammered out with batteries of AT&T attorneys, the county planning commission approved a use permit for the installation last week.

A major concession by AT&T is agreement to place in permanent scenic easement about 135 of the 150 acres being purchased for the site, assuring no buildings on the 135 acres.

IN CANYON

The huge dish-type antenna will not be located in the flat on the property, as originally proposed, which would have been visible from four surrounding properties. It will be built in a small canyon, from which only a small portion will project within sight of the Swanson home. Except for another house, a half mile away, none of the other neighbors should see it.

"With the scenic easement there, the view from my place will be protected permanently," Swanson commented.

AT&T is purchasing not only 102 acres of the "F6" ranch, the former Lil Nason ranch, from its six owners, but 48 acres owned by Joseph Lambert of Ohio, adjacent to the Swanson ranch.

AT&T, he said, has also agreed to erect a single building, one story of ranch type architecture to house its equipment. The old house on the property will be the only dwelling, for a resident manager.

NO FLOOD LIGHTS

There will be no flood lights at the tower, building or parking lot. The entrance road is to be lined on both sides with fair-sized pines and fencing is to be rustic style.

Two 13,000-gallon water tanks will be built and two deep wells are to be drilled. The antenna will be painted green. Eventual plans indicate construction of a second antenna, also mostly out of sight.

Manning the initial installation will be 20 to 25 people. A full development with two antennae, a maximum of 40 staff members will be needed. Equipment requires 24-hour shifts, seven days a week.

Swanson said that he faced officials who had power of condemnation. He was also shown extensive maps which indicated there were only two spots in California suitable for the installation, Cachagua and another, nearly inaccessible. The location requires the protection of two mountain ranges from radio installations and a certain distance from the ocean to eliminate problems from ships' radios, he was told.

"Under these circumstances," Swanson explained, "the logical thing to do seemed to play it friendly and work out our problems."

WASHINGTON ATTORNEYS

He said he and his attorney had long conferences with batteries of six attorneys who flew out twice from Washington, D.C. They apparently were aware that conservation-minded Monterey county, if stirred up, could bottle-neck the project.

"The problem now will be to make sure they will live up to their agreements," Swanson said.

"I hope the Valley as a whole accepts the new people," he added, philosophically.

Swanson said that, based on what the officials reported happened around two other similar installations, that he doesn't see land values affected. These were in Maine and eastern Washington state.

AT&T has also agreed, Swanson said, to provide police escort for wide loads moving over the winding Cachagua road and to keep truck traffic to a minimum when the school bus operates.

Swanson added that he has carried the battle on his own at a cost of more than $2,000, and that the Cachagua Committee was not active.

McClain reviews on—again, off—again CV Rd. planlines

"If Carmel Valley Road generates a lot of head-on accidents, opinions could change on the need for widening it," County Road Commissioner Bruce McClain commented in a talk to Carmel Valley Chamber of Commerce Wednesday noon at Rancho del Monte Resort.

Herb Brownell, a Chamber director who introduced McClain, pointed out that the job of McClain, as an appointed official, is not to make policy, but to carry it out as made by the board of supervisors.

As a result of board action last year rescinding four-lane planlines for CV Road, the county road dept. is doing no further planning for the local road.

He added that his five-year county road plan, scheduled for presentation to the supervisors Tuesday of this week, excludes CV Road, except for minor intersection improvements such as at Panetta Rd. and ordinary preventative maintenance.

There is money in the current budget for study of a proposed

Canada Segunda route. But he added that such a road, which would feed from near Wolter's fruit stand to the Salinas-Monterey highway, would only carry 1,000 cars a day and wouldn't appreciably affect the needs of CV Road. "Within two or three years, CV Road would be back where you started," he added.

Lou Gardner pointed out that a Canada Segunda road would probably attract additional traffic into CV Road heading to Carmel from Salinas direction.

Speaking personally as a road engineer, McClain said that "need for a four-lane road is not getting less." He said that there would have been real problems in the Lower Valley if the road had not been widened past the Rancho Shopping Center and Middle School.

"Now developments indicate traffic will increase from 5 to 10% a year on CV Road," the county road engineer said. "With increased use of CV Golf and Country Club, four lanes are warranted there now."

ARBOR DAY was celebrated Tuesday last week at Tularcitos school with planting of trees. Sponsor of the second annual event was the CV Garden Association, with Salih Mehdy

County school chief: Carmel-Monterey school union "would be devastating"

"Unification of the Carmel School District with the Monterey District would be a devastating thing for the Carmel District."

This was the comment of County Supt. of Schools Ed Coffin in a talk to CV Kiwanis Club last Tuesday noon at Los Laureles Lodge.

"In spite of the $15 per pupil bonus offered by the state for unification," Coffin said, "I would recommend against it."

He pointed out that the high assessed value of the Carmel district "would be a drop in the bucket" if added to the Monterey district, but that Carmel's program would be seriously pulled down.

Coffin declared that the "financial base for education needs to be completely over-hauled. Property owners are over-burdened and have had it! Hopefully, the new administration in Sacramento will bring about a different financial structure."

STATE LOTTERY?

The county school superintendent added that he would not be averse to taking money for schools from a state lottery, as suggested by Assemblyman Alan Pattee.

Coffin noted that the state is considering relaxing some of its requirements to permit more local control, particularly more local option in selecting books.

More teacher training is needed, he said, citing the possibilities of such tools as closed-circuit TV. One school in the county is using it in auto mechanics instruction and another for teaching typing in a class in which one teacher handles 150 students.

The county superintendent of schools' office has taken the lead in bringing the programs of educational station KQUED into this county and three surrounding counties. This is being done with 13 "translators," and plans are in the works to extend the system on into the San Joaquin Valley, he said.

For the future, Coffin foresees such innovations as a "TV library system" in which a teacher could dial in and receive instantly an up-to-the-minute map of Africa, for example, by facsimile.

FEDERAL PROGRAMS

He reviewed a number of federally-financed programs, under the EDINN project. About 80 teachers have taken advantage of self-evaluation by observing themselves on video tape. "School principals report improvement in teaching from 10 to 300% as a result of this new technique," Coffin said.

Small grants, up to $500, he termed a "sleeping project," which has generated a number of excellent ideas from teachers. Ten teachers were elected from 60 applications. He cited as successful the humanities and performing arts' project of Gary Lothe of Tularcitos School.

New members inducted into Kiwanis include Harold Fye, retired general agent of the Missouri-Pacific Railroad from San Francisco, whose wife was an executive with Macy's; Gail Fraties, Salinas attorney and Dr. Keith Howell, new veterinarian in the mid-Valley.

Important Little League events

Two important Little League events this week!

Election of new officers for CV Little League is scheduled this Thursday night at 8 in the Our Lady of Mt. Carmel meeting hall. All parents interested in successful Little League are urged to turn out.

Because last weekend's work days on the new Little League baseball field on Paso Hondo were rained out, they have been re-scheduled this Saturday and Sunday. All able-bodied men and boys are urged to turn out about 9 a.m., bringing their lunch, to clear the field of stones, to get on with important construction projects such as fencing, etc.

CV organizations to talk about continuing Fiesta de los Amigos

Representatives of Carmel Valley organizations will meet at noon Thursday, at the Plaza Linda Restaurant to explore the possibilities of setting up a new organization in the Valley, tentatively to be called the "Fiesta Committee," with the purpose of planning another Fiesta de los Amigos.

The Carmel Valley Women's Club, which successfully revived the event last September, is spearheading the new venture but plans to take only a participating role this year.

Clubs and individuals interested in Fiesta plans are asked to contact Mrs. Thomas Bottaro, representative for the Women's Club, at 659-2569.

Baseball prospects good, 42 turn out; varsity pounds alumni, 6-4, in opener

Baseball opened last week Tuesday at Carmel High with the varsity pounding the alumni in a 6 to 4 win.

The alumni used both Gordy Miyamoto and Tim Hall on the pitching mound. Jim Kelsey, who held down 2nd, made two hits.

Making three runs on singles for the alumni were Kelsey, Gene Vandervort and Mike Ricketts.

Hurlers for the varsity, who combined to limit the alumni to 6 hits, included Randy Sinclair, Ron Parsons, Brian McEldowney and Benny Artellan.

The varsity scored 4 runs in the 3rd inning on 2 walks, a single by Ron Parsons, a triple by Doug Mapson and a double by Chuck Pearson.

They scored another run in the 4th on a single by Steve Meadows and a single by Rusty Vandervort. Final run for the varsity came in the 6th on a walk and a single by Lou Shone.

Carter rides to win in 2 classes

Ralph Carter of Carmel Valley's Gold Oak Stables won the trophy as high-point senior rider Sunday at the Salinas Valley Horseman's Association horse show, held in spite of mud and rain.

Riding Dr. F.C. Burleson's beautiful appaloosa, "Sun Up," Carter took first place in two pleasure classes and the appaloosa halter class. Mrs. Carter took second in the best-dressed competition and Ralph and Sherman Smith of Carmel's Mission Stables won fourth in matched pairs.

Baseball prospects look good for Carmel High, Coach Monty Feekes predicted to The Outlook.

Twenty-two are out for the varsity and 20 out for the junior varsity, which is coached by Alan Oppenhuizen.

"Penant contenders should be Carmel, Live Oak, Pacific Grove, Hollister and King City," he said.

Feekes said the squad looks "very strong in the outfield and good in pitching." Outfield contenders he mentioned include Doug Mapson, Randy Newman, Steve Hall, John Rennels and Hammy Root.

His pitching battery includes Randy Sinclair, Ron Parsons, Brian McEldowney and Benny Artellan.

Hole-in-1 for Billy Thompson

Golfing's one-in-a-lifetime accomplishment, a hole-in-one, came to Billy Thompson of the Carmel High School golf team Sunday, Mar. 5, at Carmel Valley Golf and Country Club course.

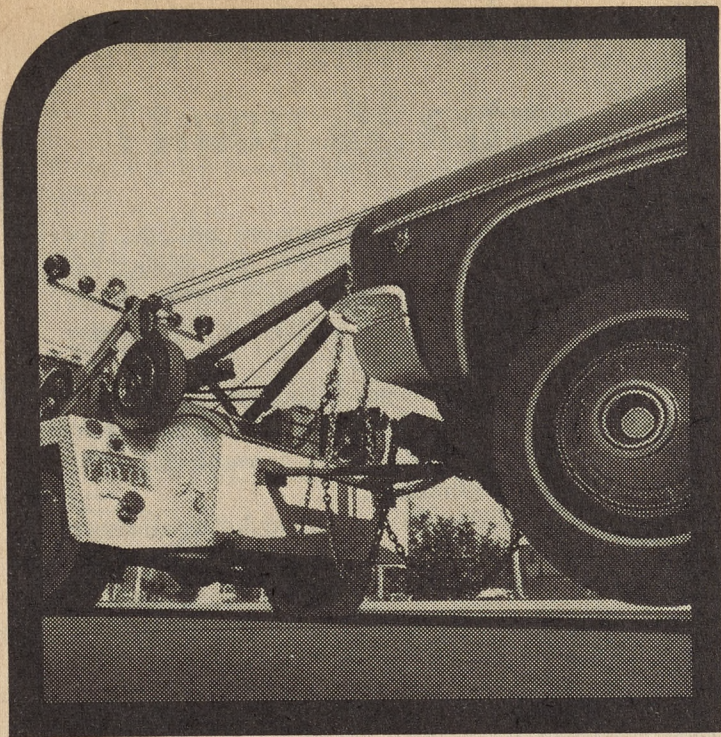

Billy, a junior, was using a No. 6 iron on the 17th hole.

It, of course, was his first ace shot and is the first hole-in-one of any Carmel High School golfer during Coach Buzz Rainer's eight years in charge of the sport at the school.

Billy is the son of Attorney and Mrs. Ralph Thompson of Carmel.

Fleming wins speech contest

Phil Fleming, student of Robert Louis Stevenson, won the coveted Student Speakers' Contest sponsored by the Carmel Valley Lions Club last Wednesday at the CV Community Center.

Nearly 60 attended the first CV Lions' speech contest for Carmel Valley students attending high school. Three girls from Carmel High School won runner-up trophies — Susan Rich, Chris Olsen, and Terrie Read.

John Koon, chairman of the event — which included a dinner for the speakers, their parents, speech coaches, Lions and their wives — announced that Phil Fleming will now represent the Lions at another speech contest Mar. 24 at Seaside High School.

Young Fleming is also editor of the Robert Louis Stevenson newspaper, "The Tusitala." He resides at 198 W. Carmel Valley Rd. His proud parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Wolf, heard Phil's winning speech.

Chandler Meloy, speech coach at Robert Louis Stevenson, also attended the contest as did Diane Hardy, speech coach for Carmel High.

Stirrup keglers win

The Stirrup Cup Bowling Team continued its winning streak by taking three out of four games Wednesday night against Mac' Market.

High game was bowled by Ba Maung with 203 and a 572 series. George Lewis was next with 192 and a 544 series, with Chuck Olmsted following close behind with 188 and a 530 series. Sam Boardman had a 201 high game and 519 series, with Jack Nielsen bowling 164 and a 476 series.

change.

"We've been the traditional league winner these past seven years," Coach Harold Lippstreu commented, "but this year will be more interesting and could be very close."

Three of last year's stopplayers moved and are lost to the squad this year. And Paul Sidoni, a ranking state player, who was at Carmel Middle School last year, is going to P.G. High instead of Carmel this year.

But on the bright side are four returning veterans, Gary Newton, Joe Ward, Jim Buzaid and Jim Hinwood.

"It takes six to make a team, so we just need two more good players to come through," Coach Lippstreu added.

Swim Coach Agan predicts 'tough season'

Fair and fast outlook for track

The outlook is fair and fast for Carmel High trackmen, according to Coaches Bob Walther and Lloyd Baskerville.

Carmel won its opening meet last week, a three-way competition with Gonzales and Stevenson School, 65-41-23.

Among the top prospects are Carlos Maraver in sprints and John Jensen and Gregg Bullard for middle distance.

Looking good in distance are Kim Schaurer, Keevin Percival and Matt Ward. Bill Swift and Gregg Scott are speedy hurdlers.

In weight events, the coaches have their hopes on Gary Kelley, Jack Argust and Les Carriel.

THREE SETS OF TWINS were on hand for the autograph party at the Magic Fishbone children's bookstore, Carmel, Saturday before last, honoring Beverly Cleary for her new book about twins of this age. Mr. and Mrs. Cleary arrived from Berkeley, where they live, with their own twins, who inspired her new children's book. The local twins, shown with the author in photo at left, include Martha and Leroy Gleason of Monterey, on each side of Mrs. Cleary, and two sets of twins from Big Sur: Amy and Mimi Bombersbach and Susan and Sarah Healey.

Although predicting "a tough season," Carmel High swim coach Jim Agan has high hopes that the Padres "will hold their own in the league."

Carmel lost the Live Oak Relays Saturday; Carmel 49, Oyerfelt 54, P.G. 68, Mt. Pleasant 84, Live Oak 113.

Twenty-six are out for the squad, including returning letterman Bob Kutschbach, a junior, of Carmel Valley.

Coming up from last year's lightweights are Mike Rudzis, Guy McLean, Mike Norman, Jim Rutledge, Randy Douglas and Les Leslie.

Coach Agan said that there is a good turn-out for the lightweight squad this season. He mentioned Robert Horn as a promising diver and twins Dave and Glen DeAtley, both freshmen transfers.

Light Bulb Sale

Saturday should be a bright day — it's the light bulb sale for benefit of CV Youth Organization!

CVYO members will spend the day making door-to-door calls throughout the Valley, offering packages of eight Westinghouse electric light bulbs. The $2 assortment will include four 100 watt bulbs, two 75 watt and two 65 watt.

Booths will also be set up in the Village, at the Mid-Valley and the Rancho shopping centers.

Backed by the CV Lions Club, the sale is the major spring fund-raising activity of the CVYO, to boost the building fund of the Community Center.

TRAINING

Should you hold out for that extra 1/4 point?

We don't believe so because no one, not even an expert, is capable of refining his investment judgment down to a 1/4 point. So, if a stock is a good buy at 44, it's also a good buy at 44 1/4.

But finding the good investment is another matter entirely. It's here that the help of an experienced well-trained account executive can be invaluable.

That's why there is particular significance in this fact: Twice during the last 3 years graduates of the Dean Witter Investment Training School have achieved the highest scores of all candidates taking the New York Stock Exchange Standard Examination for Registration. The other year they were second highest.*

Combine training with the experience of Dean Witter specialists in nearly every phase of the investment business, and the result is an intelligent, carefully-considered opinion on your investment portfolio.

But judge for yourself. Call the manager of your local Dean Witter office today. Or write to us at the address below.

S.O.S. from the S.P.C.A.!

The Monterey County Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals is facing a crisis. It needs broader financial support to survive and continue its vital public service.

Its supplemental services to the county's over-burdened facilities are desperately needed. This is indicated by the fact that three times as many animals, 185, were brought to the SPCA shelter in January this year as during the previous January.

The current crisis is because the organization's generous patron, who has assumed the operational deficit for many years, now has committed these funds towards a proposed new and enlarged shelter. Reasonably enough, the patron feels that community financial support should be forthcoming to cover operational expense.

Although a private organization solely dependent on dues and donations, the SPCA provides services to cities and the county which they would otherwise have to handle directly. It expects to feed and care for more than 4,000 animals this year—keeping them at the shelter on David Ave. in New Monterey at least a week hoping for adoption, sometimes two weeks or more.

Manning the SPCA shelter, financing the tranquilizer gun and equipment, maintaining the single ambulance, add up to a budget of $31,800.

Potential income this year from dues, donations, from Sappy's Gift & Thrift Shop, a March rummage sale and fall fashion show is $18,150. This leaves a potential deficit of $13,650.

State code permits the county to provide up to $500 a month to such an organization as the SPCA and, certainly, the local unit has proved its value. It would cost the county much more than this in direct expense if an additional 4,000 animals were dumped on the already over-burdened county animal shelter in Marina.

This in addition to the variety of humane cases which the SPCA handles and which, without it, public opinion would force the county to respond to. During 1966, the organization handled 203 cases involving cruelty and neglect to domestic and farm animals. One case, involving seven horses, cost the Society over $3,000, including caring for the animals while awaiting court trial.

In 1966 wild animal cases handled totaled 104. These include such things as putting deer injured by cars on Carmel Valley Rd. out of their misery and sea lions dying on public beaches. Mrs. Gwen May of Carmel Valley, the dedicated executive director of the organization, is on call 24 hours a day, and often gets out of bed in the middle of the night to respond to such emergency calls.

The Society has some 500 members who pay membership dues which begin with a $5 minimum a year. Out of a county population of more than 225,000, many more should join and share the responsibility. The work of the SPCA is needed. Help out with a check to Monterey County SPCA, Box 1335, Monterey.

"Don't call me Senior Citizen!"

By VIVIAN BRECKENFIELD

"Call me Gramps, call me an Old Fogey - call me anything except a Senior Citizen!" The cartoon above this verbal explosion pictures an irate old gentleman glaring at his television. It appears in the February 1967 issue of HARPER'S. (Magazine, not Bazaar.) And how come we choose this curious exclamation as the takeoff point for an editorial? Possibly because it amused us; or to name a more substantial reason, because this irritated old boy is crying out against everything that's phony.

Supposedly, it is the Youth of our time, rather than the Gramps, who inveigh against phoniness. The beatnik types, the God-is-dead theologians, the see-it-all movies and omit-nothing novels hail themselves as the true exponents of REALITY. But even after reaching the mystic age of sixty-five, soft-soap can rasp.

The term Senior Citizen seems phony because it is a smirky phrase designed to give old people a feeling of prestige. Senior sounds full of wisdom, and the word Citizen connotes an active individual with duties to perform. But duties are something which contemporary society would like to scoop right out of the lives of its older generation. Amuse them with little games, wrap them round tenderly in Medicare, keep

SCHOOL NEWS

After-school sports

by Orville C. Rogers
Principal, Carmel Middle School

After-school sports activities are being sponsored by the District, whose recreation director is Charles Dawson. In most activities involving our students, Middle School teachers are in charge. They are paid for the additional responsibility through Community Service Funds. Our present schedule is as follows:

Boys: Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday—3:30 to 5.

5-6 grade boys, Mr. Schut

7-8 grade boys, Mr. Ralph Blumenthal and Mr. DeWitt

These groups will also be playing other schools from Monterey and Pacific Grove on Saturday mornings.

Girls: Tuesday—Modern Dance, 3:30-5:00

Wednesday, Thursday—3:30-5:30, Team Sports

Instructors: Mrs. Hurley, Miss Archer, Mrs. Stokman

In addition to the above a special class in acrobatics for students of all schools is offered on Monday, 3:30-5:30. This is taught by Dr. Gordon Shocker and is open to boys and girls in grades 1-8. The District operates a late bus (leaves at 5:00 p.m.) for students in Carmel Valley and the town area.

LOTS OF MUSIC

Carmel Middle School was host last Saturday to some 14 bands and orchestras from junior high schools throughout Monterey, San Benito and Santa Cruz counties. All musical groups played three numbers and were adjudicated by John Gosling, conductor of the Monterey County Symphony and Dr. Vernon B. Read of the music department of San Jose State College.

The whole program was under the direction of our own Jody Larson. I was proud of our people not only in their performance but in their role as host. Mr. Larson is to be congratulated for the job he is doing with these boys and girls.

On the previous Saturday, Mar. 4, our choir, under Mr. Purdy's direction, participated in the Tri-County Music Festival at Monterey Peninsula College.

Our choir sang very well, paid strict attention to the director, and made a neat appearance. Mr. Purdy, too, is to be congratulated for the caliber of music and appearance of his group.

COMMITTEE TO MEET

No Parent-Faculty Club meeting in March, but the Parent-Advisory Committee will meet Wednesday, Mar. 29, at 9:30 in our library. On the agenda will be reports from two staff members, counseling and guidance by Jay Criddle, and safety in our shop classes by William Moritz. Visitors are always welcome at these meetings.

In Short

WE HAVE IT on good authority from Irwin T. Johnson, who lives on Nido Way and works for the County Road Dept., that the canyon and road which all of us have been calling "Garzas" for years don't carry that name at all. County maps, says I.T., show it as GAZUS, and he promises us documented proof that this is true. So... all you residents of Garzas Road... you are living a lie!

THREE SENIORS at Carmel High School have been selected by faculty members to represent their school in the 1967 Bank of America Achievement Awards program. Receiving trophies and the opportunity to compete for cash awards are Barbara Coss for science and mathematics; Kay McCombs, fine arts; and Scott Sinclair, liberal arts.

Nine other students were cited for their superior performance: Stephen Burnett (Mathematics), Josephine Bow (Laboratory Science), Gregory Sprung (Music), Harry Townsend (Art), Conrad Selvig (Drama), Adriann Ricupero (English), Carole Kiler (Social Science), Mary Faulkner (Foreign Language), William Edwards (Trades and Industrial Arts).

STEELHEAD SEASON is over (poachers take note), but there is new fishing incentive at Lake Nacimiento which is not too far distant for a day of good angling. The Dept. of Fish and Game has tagged 300 black crappies with special $5 reward tags as part of a program to learn more about their habits and to encourage fishermen to try for this fish. The largest black crappie catches are made at Lake Nacimiento this month, April and May... so the game is on. Catch dinner and maybe win a five dollar reward tag at the same time.

TRACY CARR, formerly a member of the White Oaks Company, and Vincent Russo of Monterey, have been chosen to sing in the Mozart comedy opera "Cosi Fan Tutti" production given by the School of Creative Arts of San Francisco State College. Both are former members of the Nancy Ness Bowman' Monterey Peninsula Opera Workshop.

Four performances will be given on Mar. 10-18. Tracy will sing the role of Dorabella and Vincent will have the part of Guglielmo. Both young people, now students at SFSC, hope to continue their operatic studies in Europe upon completion of their college work.

AREA PUBLISHERS took over the leadership of the Central Coast Counties unit of California Newspaper Publishers association at a meeting at the new San Jose Mercury building Friday before last. Elected were Publisher George Moore of The Central County News, Aptos, second vice president; Publisher Peter Arthur of The Monterey Herald, first vice president; and Bill Norton of the Carmel Valley Outlook, president. George Kane, Los Gatos Times publisher, was re-elected treasurer, and Dr. Dwight Bentel, head of San Jose State College journalism department, secretary. The unit includes newspapers in Monterey, Santa Cruz, San Benito and Santa Clara counties.

horrid new disturbing ideas. Just sit and sit, and wait and wait, until I am finally swallowed up by the Great Mouth."

A living-group of retired people could indeed be such a place. But fortunately we human beings have a greater POTENTIAL than raisins embedded in a pudding.

Here in our valley of clean air and still-unpopulated hills, we have the gift of gifts—greater than any gift perhaps—except love. We have the gift of time. Great marvellous chunks of time, freed from life's small drudgeries chipping away at its edges. Here we have opportunity—the last opportunity—to strike out for some bit of our own still unrealized potential. No one can list these possibilities for another. They are deep, interior, perhaps even secret drives of personality. But whether reached or not, the pursuit of such a goal, the acceptance of responsibility, active participation in some communal effort, must inevitably do something toward the "liberation of the human spirit," toward the release of human potential—not only our own—but by the inevitable contagion of vitality, the potential of others.

Guest editorial from "Carmel Valley Manor Echoes"

Dr. Short continues discussion of heart attacks

Not all the factors relating to the arterial changes which produce heart attacks are understood. But new, scientific techniques are giving us a better understanding.

Take heredity: Just as there is a hereditary predisposition to gout, diabetes, cancer, and high blood pressure in some people, so there is undoubtedly a predisposition to blood vessel disease. The heart muscle is not primarily diseased. The arteries to the heart have become thickened and narrowed until a blood clot forms and cuts off some channels to the muscle. This causes the typical heart attack.

People with diabetes are especially liable to have changes in the blood vessels because of an alteration in the body chemistry. Hereditary changes in body chemistry are common and complex. Such defects are called "inborn errors of metabolism."

However, it's often difficult to separate hereditary factors from environmental factors. Certain families or racial groups may have habits of life which are far more important in causing blood vessel changes than heredity. Even though heredity has chalked up a strike against us, a change in habits will often offset the hereditary defect.

For example, you may inherit a tendency to diabetes. Yet by taking measures in time, you may prevent it from ever developing. The same is true of blood vessel disease. If we could only prevent these vessel changes, we might help a great many to live to a great age instead of the few as at present. But even now many things can be done to delay this process of blood vessel decay. Let's consider the diet first.

Experimentally, the arteries of animals can be filled up with fatty or fat-like substances by modifying the diet or by manipulating the glands, particularly the thyroid gland. A high fat diet is especially prone to injure the arteries. Among the various fatty substances is one you'll recognize—cholesterol. What is it?

It's a chemical compound formed largely in the liver. It's not a true fat, but a rather complex alcohol—not the kind you drink, however.

Cholesterol is closely related to the hormones of the adrenal glands and of the ovaries and testicles. It is probably a building block for such essential products as estrogens and androgens. Androgens—or more specifically testosterone—are the substance that turns a boy into a man, puts hair on his chest, a beard on his face, deepens his voice, makes his muscles develop and upsets his emotions.

Estrogens though similar chemically, have an altogether different effect. They produce the female curves and contours in the adolescent girl and propel her into womanhood. Both these substances are closely related to cholesterol and to each other. It is remarkable that two substances so nearly alike chemically could have such opposite effects.

Other hormones are products of these same glands and constitute some of the "miracle drugs" of which we read so much today. Someone has facetiously remarked that these new drugs enable one to walk to his grave.

If cholesterol is so essential to the formation of these beneficial compounds, why has it fallen into such disrepute as an insidious killer? Read my next article.

Unightly rear roadway to be beautified

PART OF THE program of the Village Committee to define lot lines and boundaries in the commercial areas revealed that not only the fence but the power poles behind the Phillips 66 gas station are on county property. This narrow roadway is to be widened and some planting done to improve the rear appearance, but the poles and fence will have to be moved.

'Love of Mike' color movie at CV Center

The CVYO presents a Parents' Magazine family medal winning-COLOR MOTION PICTURE as this Saturday's matinee, Mar. 18.

The film is 20th Century Fox's "FOR THE LOVE OF MIKE" in color by deLuxe. Starring Richard Basehart, Stu Erwin, Arthur Shields and many others, it is the story of Michael Littlebear - Indian boy - who owned nothing, and everything!

The simple, heart-stirring story unfolds in a poverty-stricken parish in New Mexico where Mike, a 12-year-old Indian orphan, lives at the parish with an aging priest. Mike makes a practice of collecting injured or abandoned animals and under the guidance of the village doctor nurses them back to health.

Included in his family zoo are an eagle, a baby deer, several goats, lambs, rabbits, a puma, a dog and a quarter horse. It is the quarter horse that saves the day - and provides a great outdoor adventure! - as Mike heals the colt and trains him for a race at the county fair.

As usual there will be two shows of this fine picture including chapter number 11 of "THE OREGON TRAIL" with Johnny Mack Brown. All seats still 35¢ if support continues. Adult supervision as always.

Under the oaks and among the cacti

By Mildred Hattan

Very proud grandparents on Live Oak Lane are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Mills whose grandson, Brian Boles, recently attained the rank of Eagle Scout in San Gabriel. Mrs. Mills spent several days visiting her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Boles, and was on hand for the Boy Scout court of honor.

Brian, 15, visits the Valley each summer and is presently in his sophomore year at high school. The busy teenager is a member of the California Scholarship Federation, the German Club, Folk Club, and a member of the debating team.

The Faculty Wives of Monterey Peninsula College became armchair travelers for an evening and were taken on a mythical tour of Iran at the dessert meeting held at the Panetta Rd. home of Mrs. Gary Eldridge. Mrs. Charles (Hardows) Teclaw, an instructor of Persian at the Defense Language Institute, conducted the memorable visit to her homeland.

A selection of beautiful Iranian items were exhibited, many of them displayed upon a bedspread of lavish embroidery that had been in Mrs. Teclaw's family for 200 years. There were brass trays, an enormous brass vase, fine silver jewelry, lacquered bowls, and a beautiful Persian rug. Dolls made by tribes of Indians living in the Iranian mountains were dressed in authentic costumes. Particularly charming was one of an Indian woman weaving a rug.

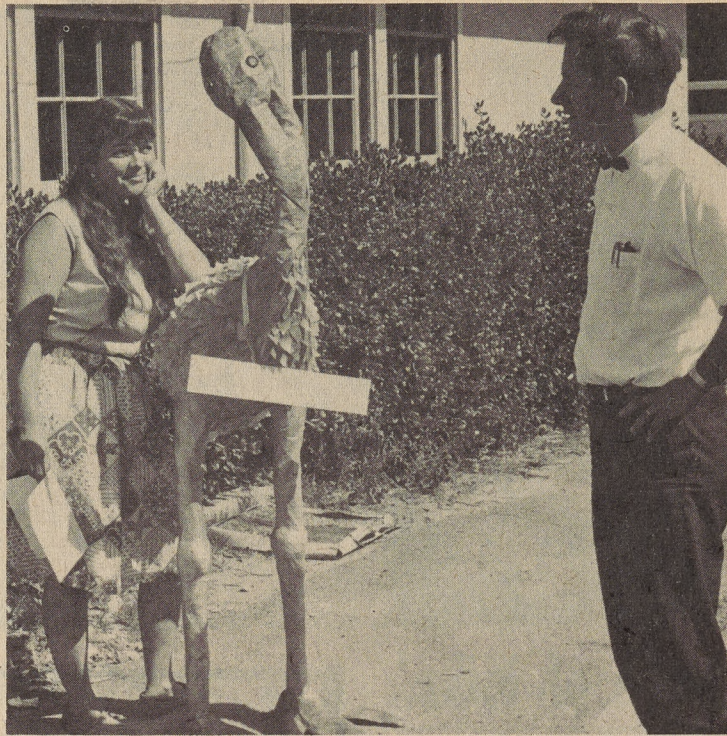

A film prepared by the Consul General showed Iranian exchange students in San Francisco celebrating their welcome to springtime (a celebration combining both our Easter and New Year's).

Refreshments prepared by the executive board were a selection of fruits and cheeses from the Far East eaten from skewers while delightful background music was provided by records of Iranian music. Assisting with arrangements were club president, Mrs. Lawrence Miller, and Mmes. Milton Bristow, Philip Nash, Donald Compton, David Hopkins, and Henry Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. James Goold welcomed a baby daughter who arrived Feb. 16 at the Community Hospital. The little girl who has been named Cheryl Elizabeth weighed 7 lbs. 2 oz. Cheryl's arrival promoted to the position of first-time grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Vernon Goold of Fremont and Mr. and Mrs. Roy G. Jones of Hingham, Mass.

The eastern grandparents are presently visitors in the Valley while getting acquainted with one of its newest residents. The Valley became the permanent home in September of the Goold family who moved into a home on Buena Vista del Rio.

VALLEYITE Lisa Buchenroth labored many hours to create a long-legged creature to kid Milton Bristow (right) her geology instructor at Monterey Peninsula College. The papier mache work of art labeled, "This...is...a...bird," referred to a remark Bristow had made in lecture which convulsed the class. During the construction period, "The Bird," took up a goodly proportion of Lisa's kitchen, where it hung suspended from the ceiling to dry between applications.

At the Galleries

ALICE ROBERTSON

The March exhibit of the Carmel Crafts Guild in Carmel's Harrison Memorial Library features the creative stitchery and driftwood sculpture of Alice Robertson.

A resident of Carmel since 1954, Mrs. Robertson's interest in crafts has been stimulated by classes in adult education workshops provided by the Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art Association. She feels particularly indebted to the late Helen Snider for giving her a deeper appreciation of the beauty of form found in natural wood.

Mrs. Robertson's present interest is in the field of creative stitchery and she has taught classes in that craft at the Carmel Foundation where she had a show last year.

In 1949 she moved to Nevada City with her artist husband and made the transition from oil painting to watercolor and on to block printing.

EVE TARTAR BROWN

Carmel Valley's Eve Tartar Brown is showing her wood constructions at the de Saisset Art Gallery at the University of Santa Clara to Mar. 26.

LAKEY

A unique exhibit with painters of such eminence as Edwin Hayes, Charles Dixon, James Gale Tyler, will be shown until Mar. 19 at the Lakey Galleries on San Carlos between 5th and 6th in Carmel.

L.A. EXTRAVAGANZA

A mammoth art show and sale is planned in southern California when Artist's World Exhibit opens in the 80,000 sq. ft. Great Western Exhibit Center in Los Angeles. Local artists have been contacted and are invited to submit their entries for the show which will hang from Apr. 28-30.

Cash and purchase awards will exceed $3,000.

The Carmel Valley Chamber of Commerce has brochures on the sale and show

Mrs. Hackett was born in Oakland and studied at the California School of Fine Arts in San Francisco. She taught at the Art Center School, Oakland, then worked for seven years as a commercial artist.

Zany costumes spice l'Alliance ball

Outstanding and unusual costumes were evident everywhere at the l'Alliance Francaise mid-Lenten costume ball held at the Casa Munras last week. The dance was given to raise money for the Alliance's scholarship fund.

The prize for the most beautiful costume went to Mrs. Paul Light and Mr. Sidney Frohman for their costumes of the Southern Civil War period. Fritz Wurzmann took top honors for the most authentic costume with his Mandarin outfit, complete with queue.

There was no question about who would get the award for most spectacular. Mr. and Mrs. Henri Corbat of Carmel were attired in ancient Inca costumes, with golden beaked masques and feathered cloaks of red and yellow. Their legs and arms were sprayed with gold to match the dramatic masques.

For the third time in a row, the same group won the prize for the most original. They always attend the party together and this year combined their efforts to make and "wear" a Citroen "deux cheveux" automobile complete with an authentic horn. The occupants of the car were Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Sigen, Dr. and Mrs. Deryck Nuckton, and Mr. Clyde Lee.

The jury, composed of Mr. and Mrs. Ansel Adams, Mrs. Theodore Bradley, Capt. Ralph Arndt and Ion Issvoran chose Mrs. John Dowdakin's Can-Can outfit as the most seductive costume.

Dr. and Mrs. Sorin Issvoran won the prize for the most amusing as Tarzan and Jane, dressed as the English tourist with pith helmet, butterfly net and first aid kit. Mrs. Gerald Barron, dressed in gold from the top of her high hat to her shoes, won the most charming as a golden shepherdess.

MRS. JOHN DOWDAKIN (right) of Carmel Valley and Mrs. Henri Corbat (left) of Carmel won prizes for the most seductive and the most dramatic costumes at the recent Alliance Francaise Mi-Carême Ball.

THE CAR...an authentically reproduced Citroen "deux cheveux" won a prize as the most original costume for its occupants, Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Sigen, Dr. and Mrs. Deryck Nuckton and Clyde Lee.

GINGER is the type who looks best without a haircut. Her black eyes peer out brightly between modishly blond tresses. No fancy expensive clips for her, even though she is mostly poodle. She's a friendly beatnik who loves all living things including people.

Her indoor manners are impeccable. We don't know how she landed in the SPCA shelter at the tender age of one year, but she shouldn't stay there long with her looks and disposition. If you want to be her next owner better hurry down to 2099 David, Monterey, and make arrangements with Humane Officer Gwen May, or phone 375-3333.

Violinist Szeryng to play in concert here March 28

The distinguished Polish violinist Henryk Szeryng will be heard in concert at the Sunset Auditorium Tuesday, Mar. 28, under the auspices of the Carmel Music Society.

Born in Warsaw, now a citizen of Mexico, Szeryng won early fame in his native land and throughout Europe. During World War II, the violinist devoted his time to playing concerts for Polish, American, British and Canadian service men. When peace came he settled in Mexico, a country he first visited in 1941.

Szeryng has played throughout the world; from Indonesia, Angola and Mozambique to the leading concert halls of the Western World. He is a familiar guest artist at the major European Music Festivals.

This year he will be heard with the New York Philharmonic in the World Premiere of a Chavez Violin Concerto.

He has played under the baton of the most celebrated conductors in the world, among them Bruno Walter, Sir Malcolm Sargent, Fritz Reiner, Carlos Chavez, Georg Solti, Paul Paray, and Pierre Monteaux.

'Arsenic & Old Lace' Studio's next

Comediennes Betty Fowlston and Ruth McElroy will have the little-old-lady leads in "Arsenic and Old Lace" which the Studio Restaurant-Theatre goes back 25 years to revive for its next production.

Betty and Ruth have teamed up before in comedy hits, "Fallen Angels" and "Farewell, Farewell Eugene," and were smashingly successful.

Opening night is Mar. 25. Reservations for dinner and the show or the show only may be made by calling 624-1661.

INCOMPARABLE SWITZERLAND will be the next Explorers Club feature Friday at 8:15 at Sunset Center, Carmel. Photographer Phil Walker will be narrator.

Rough and ready rugby t

Easter weekend will see the return of the annual Rugby Tournament to the Monterey Peninsula. This is the ninth year for the rugged competition and the Monterey tournament has become the highlight of West Coast play. The tournament will be held at the Carmel Middle School athletic fields beginning at 7:30 in the morning on both Saturday, Mar. 25, and Sunday, Mar. 26. Competition continues until about 5:30 p.m. The annual contest is sponsored by the Monterey Jaycees and Valleyite Roger Winslow is chairman.

The game of rugby developed from soccer, but is quite similar to American football, only rougher. It is played on a field 120 yards by 75 yards, with end goals. Each half is 40 minutes long with a much-needed rest period in between.

Each half is begun with a place kick from the mid-field line. When the ball is in play it may be carried, kicked or thrown.

Players on the offensive team must stay behind the man with the ball. There are 15 players on each team which consists of eight forwards, a scrum half, a stand-off, four three-quarter backs and a full back.

The "scrum" term is one that is common in rugby. The "set scrum" is like a line of scrimmage and is used to restart play after it has been stopped for an unintentional violation of the rules.

A "loose scrum" forms when players group around a ball that has landed on the ground, for example, after a fumble. Perhaps it is because of the grunting and groaning of the two teams during the scrum plays that the reference to rugby being organized mayhem developed.

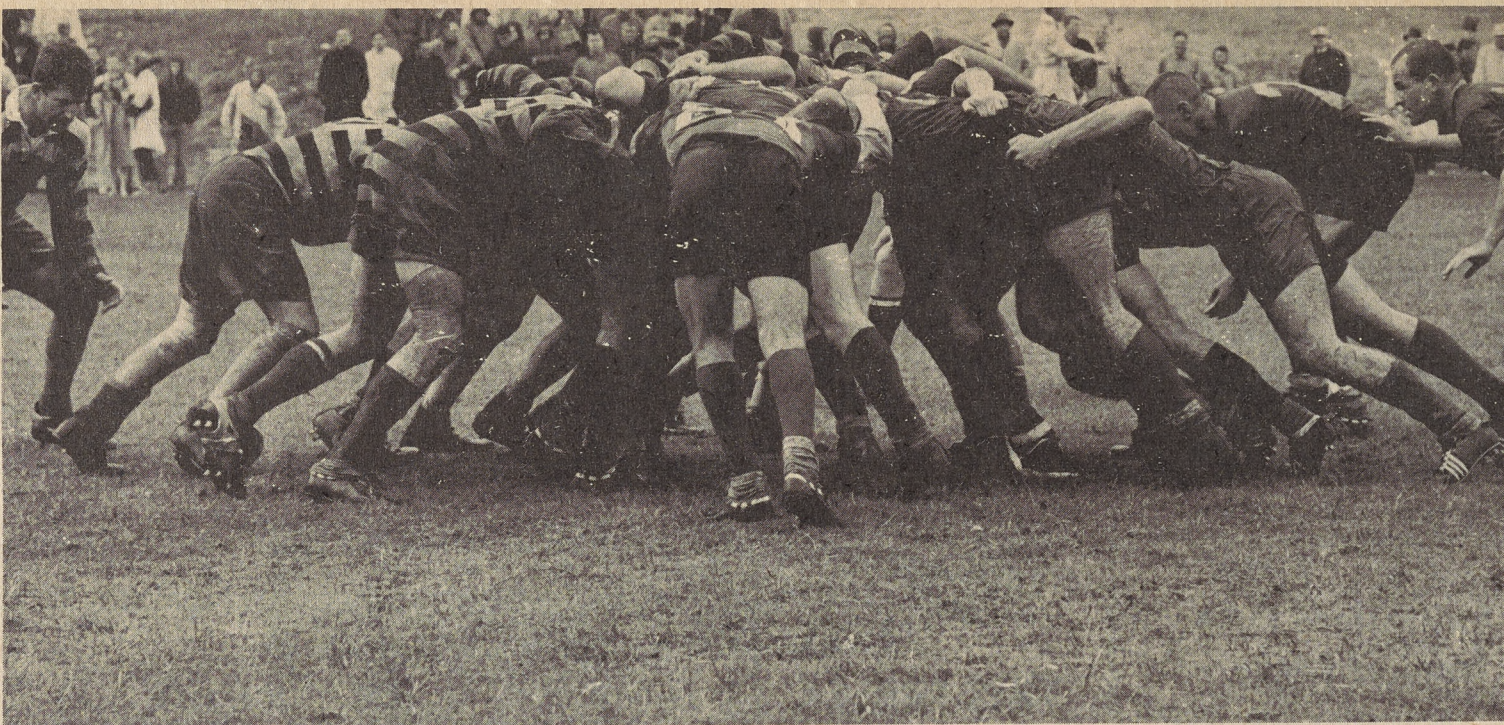

During the scrum, the eight forwards line up in three rows and shove... against each other. They try to bodily force the other line back to gain possession of the ball, which has been thrown in between the two lines. This ball must reach the center man in the front row who is called a "hooker" and he then uses his heel to knock it back to the scrum half.

Points can be made in four different ways. A touchdown or "try" as it is called, is made in much the same manner as in football. However, the ball must be touched on the ground in order to score the three points for a "try."

LEFT—The jump for the ball occurs when it is returned to play after being kicked or knocked out of bounds. BELOW—The scrum line-up brings the eight forwards into a mighty physical battle of pushing the opposing team back so as to clear the ball which has been tossed between the lines.

PLAYERS JUMP in the air to bat the ball over the goal line, or kicked over the

Rugby teams to play Easter weekend

After the try, a place kick at the opposite point from the try may be attempted. If it touches any player on its way it does not count; however, if it is successful, then that "goal" counts two more points.

A drop kick may be attempted by a player who thinks he cannot carry it over the goal line. No conversion is permitted in this case.

A place-kick or drop-kick gotten as a result of a penalty will also count for three points.

Rugby is always a fast and rough game, with extreme competition between the teams. The championship game of the weekend will be played on Sunday afternoon. Play usually begins around 2 p.m. after the elimination games.

Tickets will be on sale at the gate for $1.50, with students and military admitted for $1.

THE ATHLETIC FIELDS at Carmel Middle School will be the scene of the ninth annual Rugby Tournament on Saturday, Mar. 25, and Sunday, Mar. 26.

THE GRIM EXPRESSIONS on players faces, combined with clothes and hair pulling, and a large amount of grunting, have caused rugby to be called "organized mayhem."

in the air to bat the ball. The ball may be carried, or kicked over the goal posts to make points.

QUIET REIGNS MOMENTARILY as the ball is returned to play, but the calm is soon broken as fierce play begins.

Community effort makes short shift of debris at League Field

Little League field on Paso Hondo. Over 74 post holes were dug in the rocky river bottom land. Reserve members of the Seabees contribute their services to community youth projects as part of their training.

Volunteers answer fire, first aid calls

FIRST AID

The ambulance was called to the intersection of E. Carmel Valley and Flight roads where a car operated by Ray Keane of Lilac Lane failed to make the curve. Damage was reported to the car and minor injuries to the driver who refused assistance.

FIRE

Controlled burning on the Lawrence Avila property on Paso Hondo re-kindled in the morning hours Monday, Mar. 5. The Volunteer Fire Dept. answered the alarm at 12:15 a.m. and reported no damage.

Why do so many people from Carmel— Carmel Valley stay at the Fielding Hotel in San Francisco?

Because the Fielding has been completely redecorated from top to bottom. Located downtown — only 1 block from Union Square and 1½ blocks to Air Terminal. Complete hotel service day and night. A "Top-flight" hotel at moderate rates.

And speaking of PURPLE... the loveliest spot of spring to be found any place in the Valley this week is the bed of ruffled purple tulips and grape hyacinths at the D.K. Miller home on Del Rio Road.

The Valley Bridge Club met Tuesday at the Community Center for its weekly duplicate bridge tournament. A first place tie was won by Mrs. Norma Ristau and Mrs. Evelyn Lichty, and Mrs. Ellie Hansen and Mrs. May Evans, Mr. and Mrs. J.E. Van Laanen were in third place.

Now referred to as "The Lucky Lt. of Paso Mediano" is Melvin Bruce whose car was forced off the Los Laureles

Grade Road last week and plunged down a 150 embankment. The driver of the small sports car involved failed to stop.

The "L.L.'s" wife, Margaret, drove him to the dispensary at the Naval Air Facility where he was treated for minor injuries and released.

Col. (ret) and Mrs. Herbert Nelson of Los Arboles Rd. have enjoyed a recent visit with Col. Nelson's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Nelson of Glen Ellen, Ill. During their stay friends were invited to a cocktail party to meet the house guests from the East and to celebrate Frank's "39th" birthday.

Among those attending were Mrs. John Lenzini of Highland Park, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Dodson of Burlingame, Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Bentley, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Bickford, Col. and Mrs. George Brown, Mr. and Mrs. William Brown, Col. and Mrs. I.W. Cundiff, Dr. and Mrs. Ben Dahle, Mrs. Frank Graham, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Matney, Mr. Jack Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Rolan Percival, Mr. and Mrs. John Sigourney, Maj. and Mrs. Howard Vail, and Mr. and Mrs. Al Weber.

The Nelsons have returned home through the southern part of California. However, they hope to make the Valley their retirement home... a decision encouraged by a birthday phone call from Mr. Nelson's mother in Illinois where the family was reportedly digging out from a second terrible snow storm.

An "Old Oak Leaf Cluster" to Swan's Furniture Store for donating a daveno and chair from their used furniture department to the Thrift Shop operated by the CV Community Chapel Guild. Another recent donation "with a past" is a handsome solid brass fireplace screen with attached tools.

A belated welcome to Mr. and Mrs. R.D. Petree who have been Valley residents since September when they were transferred to the Peninsula from their home in Concord by the Pacific Telephone Co. They are making their home on Boronda Rd. in quarters formerly leased to Doreen and Bob Bussinger who have moved to Carmel. Completing the Petree family is their daughter, Linda 13, a student at Middle School and ten-year-old Danny, who is enrolled at Tularcitos.

Former neighbors and friends had two brief opportunities to catch up on what has been happening in the lives of Lt. and Mrs. Ian Crichton and sons, who were formerly stationed here, when Lt. Crichton traveled via submarine to San Francisco. His wife, sons, Jamie and William (two dogs and three cats) followed him by auto stopping both directions to be the guests of the Richard Lee family on Laurel Dr. The Crichtons are living in San Diego.

Lt. Crichton has recently returned from a long Pacific cruise on the submarine "Valador," which will remain on the coast for an indefinite period of refitting.

LOIS E. OSGOOD

Mrs. Lois E. Osgood, formerly a resident of Carmel Valley, passed away on Mar. 7 in a Salinas hospital. Mrs. Osgood, 52, was a native of Boone, Iowa. She had been in ill health for the past six months.

The Osgood family lived on Garzas Road in the Valley before moving to 915 San Vicente Drive, Salinas, last fall. Mrs. Osgood was a member of the CV Trail and Saddle Club and St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Salinas.

She is survived by her husband, David, one daughter, Kathy, and two sons, David and Mike.

Padre Parents plan fun day

A Sunday "fun day" is being planned May 21 by the executive committee of Padre Parents, the parent organization for Carmel High School.

"On the lighter side, the committee feels that just-for-fun affairs have been forgotten in favor of meetings where everyone has to do something," explained Mr. and Mrs. Jim Kramer, chairmen of Padre Parents.

"The Padre Parents are therefore joining with the Booster Club and the American Field Service to present an as yet unnamed barbecue, auction, bake sale and perhaps a few games and some fun."

Florence Nedeff-Donald Martin wedding rites are also celebrated behind the Iron Curtain

Although the recent wedding of Florence Zweta Nedeff and Donald Eugene Martin took place at the Church of the Wayfarer in Carmel, the event was also celebrated behind the Iron Curtain by the bride's many relatives and friends in the village of Sophia, Bulgaria. A long telegram from Bulgaria with best wishes for the newlyweds was translated that evening at a dinner party in the Carmel Valley home of the bride's parents, Prof. and Mrs. Mitko Nedeff of Via Contenta.

Baskets of white gladioli and tapers were used at the altar of the Church of the Wayfarer in Carmel for the 12 noon wedding which was read by Rev. George D. Greer. A reception followed in the ballroom of the Presidio of Monterey Officer's Club.

The bride wore a three piece Italian suit. Her shoulder length veil of tulle fell from a white satin pill box. Her bridal bouquet was a sheaf of white camelias.

Florence chose as her maid of honor, Marjorie Seiffert, a friend from Carmel. Marjorie's dress was a grey wool. Serving as best man was John Eversoll, also of Carmel.

The bride's sister, Nikki, was flower girl. She wore a dress of pink silk chiffon and carried a basket of baby roses. Stanley Martin of Los Angeles, son of the bridegroom from a former marriage, was the ring bearer.

Among the out-of-town guests were the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Beatrice Martin of Newport Beach; his grandmother, Mrs. Helen Williams of Riverside, and his brother, Ted Martin of Newport Beach.

Others were Mr. and Mrs. Tom White, Los Angeles; Mrs. Helene Pornhayeff, Calistoga; Mrs. Anna Holm, San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Ivanoff, Whittier; Mr. and Mrs. Bojidar Avramoff, Beverly Hills; Mr. and Mrs. Strahil Ermenkov and Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Nocheff, all of San Diego. Attending from Carmel were Mr. and Mrs. George Popoff, Miss Greta Popoff, and Prof. and Mrs. Boris Jordan.

Assisting Mrs. Nedeff with the buffet wedding dinner was Mrs. George Popoff.

Following a brief honeymoon in Carmel, the couple are at home at 1682 Scenic Ave., Berkeley, where the bridegroom, a graduate of Carmel High School, is enrolled in an electronics engineering course at the University of California. Hermosa Beach will be their home at the end of the semester where Mr. Martin will resume his position this summer with an electronics firm.

Mrs. Martin formerly taught at Santa Catalina School for girls. She is a graduate of Pacific Grove High School, received her A.A. degree from Monterey Peninsula College, and obtained her M.A. from the Monterey Institute of Foreign Studies.

The Rhyming Philosopher

I grieve a bit for those who never knew
The blessed hush of woods in winter snows;
The freshness of a meadow's morning dew,
Or watched a bud evolve into a rose.

Long gone is now the dusty country way
Where plodding horses pulled the wagon home
In from the fields with that sweet scented hay
Which filled the air 'neath heaven's hanging dome.

The silence of the night is banished, too,
By traffic's roar in both the sky and road;
And so count those among the vanished who Once pioneered the place of my abode.

But who shall sigh for pleasant things unknown,
Or ask of youth to reconstruct the past?
When youngsters on their magic wings have flown
To greater deeds, and confidently laughed.

Forget it, Dad, says Youth: the past is dead
And cannot, shall not rob us of today.
There's more excitement in the tasks ahead
Than all the dust and cobwebs of decay.

● Valley Women's Club plans salad bar luncheon

The Carmel Valley Women's Club is planning a salad-bar luncheon for its members at noon on Wednesday, Apr. 5, at the CV Community Center. It will be closed to all but members and reservations will be limited to 70, according to Mrs. Irving Ollason, chairman, and her co-chairman, Mrs. Fred Starr. There will be a fashion show presented by Joanne Sears and the theme, "Exotic Pacifica," will suggest an invitation to members to wear muu muus, oriental styles or South Sea prints to the meeting, although it is not mandatory.

At its March meeting held at Rippling River, the group filled to capacity the largest of the dining rooms at the new resort for luncheon.

Members heard a book report on the newly published book, "Madame Sarah," a biography of Sarah Bernhardt, given by Mrs. Everett Bibb of Carmel.

Mrs. Elizabeth Hoisington presented a bracelet from the club to president Mrs. Larry Cummings. Attached to the bracelet were children's profiles on which were engraved the names of the Cummings' children. An order for an additional charm to be engraved after the birth of Mrs. Cummings' fifth child, expected in April, was included in the gift.

The membership also presented $10 to the CV. Garden Association for its Arbor Day program at Tularcitos School.

● MP Soroptimists to taste wines and fashions

The Soroptimist Club of the Monterey Peninsula is sponsoring "The World of Wines and Fashions," on Thursday, Mar. 16, at the Mark Thomas Inn, at 8 p.m. The first hour of the party will be devoted to tasting wines from the Almaden Wineries of Los Gatos, with the second hour featuring a glamorous fashion show coordinated by Dorothy Dean Stevens of Carmel Valley.

Proceeds from the party will go for nurses' scholarships, the primary Soroptimist Club project, according to Mrs. Harold Nielson, of Carmel Valley, chairman of the event. Ticket chairman is Dorothy Wright, also from the Valley. Other committee members are Sallie Conn, Marjorie Shook, Birgit Carlson, Elizabeth Bannerman and Celia Busby.

● Garden tour is planned

Gardens in Pebble Beach and Carmel will be included in the MPVS 14th garden tour, Wednesday, Apr. 14. Tickets were distributed to members of Monterey Peninsula Volunteer Services at the recent March meeting.

The tour hours will be from 10 to 4 p.m. with tea served from 2 p.m. until the closing. Tickets are available from members or by writing to Box 2004, Carmel.

● St. Pat's Day dance

Rippling River Resort will be the setting for a St. Patrick's Day Dance, this Friday, Mar. 17. Music by the De Marias will attempt to revive a tradition in the Valley a few years back when the St. Patrick's Day was a big annual affair at Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church.

For some five years Angelo De Maria and his musical group provided the merriment for the local church's St. Patrick's Day celebration. Now, as president of Rippling River Resort, Angelo De Maria plans to bring back St. Patrick's Day and a gala dance to Carmel Valley.

● "Eat globally" is Food Festival theme at M.P.C.

With "All You Can Globally Eat" as their theme, members of Monterey Peninsula College's International Relations Club are planning an international food

Jerry Blunt White Oaks guest prof

Jerry Blunt, professor and author, will be a guest instructor at White Oaks Theatre this coming week, Mar. 18-25.

A member of the Honorary Board of the Theatre, Mr. Blunt has been associated with Los Angeles City College for the past thirty-six years.

Among his students are Donna Read, Alexis Smith, Robert Vaughn, Alan Arkin and Chris Robinson.

"The Composite of Acting," his first book, was published in 1966.

Mr. Blunt and his wife, Andy, a well-known write for television, will be staying at the Adobe Oaks Motel in the Valley from Mar. 18 to Easter Sunday.

festival for Saturday, Mar. 18, 7 p.m. in the student union on campus.

Among models will be Rana Azar, representing Iran; Fatima Rais, Indonesia; Carolyn McKeen, India; Juanita Lacap, the Philippines; Margaret Kong, China; Cindy Eyre, United States; Barbara Yoshioka, Japan; Patti Smith, Scotland; and Joan Perez, Mexico.

Songs, dances and comedy routines will be presented by John Sablan, Guam; Mustafa Ahmad, Iraq; Fatima Rais, Indonesia; Keiko Saito and Eiko Hashimoto, Japan; Bill Greenwell, United States; Tony Ho and Peter Ng, China. Also entertaining will be Lisa Buchenroth, Carmel Valley folksinger and the Ethnos Dancers.

A cookbook prepared by the club will contain recipes for most of the salads, main dishes and desserts to be served, buffet style.

TWO PRETTY MPC students — Christine Phung of Vietnam (left) and Eiko Hashimoto of Japan — do some preliminary cooking for the festival.

● White Oaks re-opens

Regularly scheduled performances will commence at White Oaks Theatre this coming Friday, Mar. 17 when the doors will be opened to the public for the first time since the recent financial crisis almost permanently closed the theatre in January.

For the next five weeks, Friday night audiences will see "U.S.A." the dramatic revue based on highlights of American life between 1900 and 1930; the lighthearted "Gigi" will be seen on Saturday evenings; and on Sunday afternoons, a new production of "The Wonderment of Gleep" will be presented.

Admission is a flat $2.00 for the 8:30 p.m. evening performances. Curtain time for "Gleep" is 2:30 p.m. and the rates are 75¢ for children and $1.00 for adults.
